

Mission San Rafael Rotary Club

27 JANUARY 2011

It was a dark and stormy night, with the sun shining brightly through the moon lit clouds The Mission San Rafael Rotary Club held its annual crab feed and prized heirloom auction.

A Photogravure depiction of the events follows:

From out of the depths of various strongholds highly prized family heirlooms and mementoes of eras past were assembled and placed upon the auction block. The vast sums of money that would be acquired were to be devoted to the betterment of mankind.

Under the ever watchful eye of Nancie; Marijane was in charge of accountability. Monitoring all bids and holding accountable those fortunate souls that had the winning bid.

Our two auctioneers had "sold to the highest bidder" down pat.

A tumbler of Bombay liquid refresher made for a much greater audible bit of auctioneering.

"you said WHAT??" at times their joy de vie fell somewhat flat.

An artifact ,a chart of navigation; perhaps Columbus used it on the way to the New World....or is this the way to San José???

Ladies and Gentlemen...here we have a magnificent full length ensemblegreat for the sauna ...will wear well as a toga at an Animal House Soirée.....what am I bid????????????????

A book of operatic masterpieces;;;I'll now do the solo from Carmen

For the Gala ///a perfect pair dancing shoes ///will go well with a tux.

Check Nancie's wishful "should I....hmm best not"

Meanwhile Eli was cornering the market on cocktail sauce.

Wow if you thought that the last item was far out wait until you go for this "prized" hand me down from the ancients.

Now Keith that will be
$$$$$$$$$$$$$$$$

That's all folks we all had a great time.....lots fun ///lots a crab

Gotta go now.
